MARMOR

Twenty-fifth
Edition 1956

Dedication

TO PRESIDENT GEORGE PEEL GILMOUR, M.A., B.D., D.D., D.C.L., LL.D., DISTINGUISHED CHURCHMAN, EDUCATOR AND ADMINISTRATOR.

George Peel Gilmour is a native son of Hamilton, born in the manse of James Street Baptist Church. After graduation from McMaster and a year at Mansfield College, Oxford, he served as pastor of Danforth Baptist Church, Toronto. In 1929, after receiving the M.A. degree from Yale he became Professor of Church History in McMaster and in 1941 was made Chancellor, the title being changed in 1950 to President and Vice-Chancellor.

By way of serving the Church President Gilmour has distinguished himself as a preacher, liturgist, hymnologist, and administrator. He edited the hymnary now used in Canadian Baptist churches, has been for many years Chairman of the Baptist Publications Committee, and from 1946 to 1948 was President of the Canadian Council of Churches.

With credit to himself and to this University he served for a time on the executive of the National Conference of Canadian Universities and as president during the term of 1951-52. In 1951 he represented Canada at a conference of the universities of the British Commonwealth in India. He was chosen Man of the Year by the City of Hamilton in 1950, and has been awarded honorary degrees by six universities: Acadia, Toronto, Queen's, Laval, St. Andrews, Scotland, and recently McGill.

It would be impossible to overestimate President Gilmour's contribution to McMaster University itself. Under his leadership Hamilton College was organized and affiliated in 1948. During his presidency, and largely in consequence of his personal efforts, six splendid buildings and a modern heating plant have been added to the campus, annual enrolment has been doubled, endowment has increased, educational policy has advanced, public relations have been extended, and the University has attained to an unprecedented prestige in the academic world.

To him, therefore, this dedication summa cum laude on this the Twenty-Fifth Anniversary of the Marmor

The President's Message

Automation is a lively topic, people hailing its approach with joy or fear: joy, because things can be done which have been impossible or impossibly tedious; fear, lest machines increase man's output without proportionately increasing his purchasing power.

For the university man, however, automation cannot inspire any hope of endless leisure, because a few of us are the people who must design and operate these machines, and most of us are people who must work in society at tasks no machinery can do. The fields of human relations, human motives and resilient faith lie outside the area of the machine, and may be more difficult to make fruitful because of it. Just as the Apostle Paul came to see that the real problem was that of "what the law could not do," so the university man must be chiefly aware of what automation will not be able to do. A machine will be able to inform but not to teach; it will give some kinds of answers but it cannot frame the questions, least of all the troublesome questions to which it can give no answer.

When Tennyson in 1854 celebrated "The Charge of the Light Brigade," he sang that "all the world wondered." He had in mind men's admiring wonder at the stubborn discipline and reckless courage of a small group of misdirected men wastefully expended. But we have come to wonder about a lot more things, such as the executive failure that produced that futile manoeuvre, the crass stupidity that characterized the direction of the Crimean War, and the ugly politics that precipitated it. So if we wonder at the machines we may design and command, it will be a childish wonder unless we give thought to the non-mathematical and non-mechanical problem of the spirit and the flesh that will go on troubling us. To those problems men address themselves best if they work in the faith of Christ, with disciplined intelligence and moral responsibility.

G. P. GILMOUR.

Editorial

The name Marmor, meaning milestone, seems particularly appropriate for this twenty-fifth edition of the McMaster Year Book. For the graduates, of course, this year is undoubtedly one of the major milestones in their lives, — one that marks entry into a completely new and unknown territory. But for all McMaster students, past, present and future, this particular milestone marks a quarter century of McMaster's progress in Hamilton — the period in which it became of age in its new sphere and began its growth to an influential maturity.

In this quarter century McMaster has increased in size, has improved and expanded its facilities and has enhanced its reputation in the educational world. We have been among those fortunate enough to grow in and with the university during this period. It will continue to grow as we shall. Such an institution is not an inanimate object — it is a living body of students and faculty members and others associated with it, all of whom give something of themselves to it and receive something of value from it.

We have learned at McMaster not to worship the past but to learn from it that we may better serve the present and the future. The words of Lord Tweedsmuir on a similar occasion seemed to us suitably to express our feelings in respect both to our university and our selves —

'No man or institution can live on the past if they desire to endure. If they lose touch with their age it means that they have lived too long. A University such as this which looks forward to a long career of usefulness, can never afford for one moment to get out of terms with the present. Its task is to interpret that present as a bequest to the future.'

BARBARA SCHATZ.

In Memoriam

WILLIAM EVERETT ADAMS

William Everett Adams, B.A., M.A., Ph.D., came to McMaster as Assistant Professor of Political Economy for the 1955-'56 session, having previously held similar rank at the University of Manitoba.

During World War II, Dr. Adams served with distinction both in the Canadian and American Armed Forces. As an R.C.A.F. pilot atttached to the Eighth Bomber Command, he was shot down over France and escaped through the underground to England, then returning to active combat. He was awarded a D.F.C. for his services.

His university education delayed until the end of the war, Dr. Adams received both his undergraduate and graduate training at McGill University, in the city which remained his home. During his brief term at McMaster, he impressed colleagues and students alike with his keen intellect, scholarly potentialities and his unfailing optimism and good humor.

Dr. Adams is survived by his wife and three children, and lying beyond the personal tragedy of his early death at the age of thirty-five years is the loss to his profession of an unusually promising and inquiring mind.

FRICIS GULBIS

Coming to Canada as a Lady Davis Fellow in 1948, Fricis Gulbis left behind him the presidency of the Baltic University in Exile, Pinneberg, Germany, of which he had been chief organizer, and a teaching career of twenty-three years in the University of Latvia, where he had become Dean of the Faculty of Mathematics and Natural Sciences, and vice-rector of the university.

Dr. Gulbis received his early education at Liepaja, Latvia, and then proceeded to the University of Petrograd, where he became a Master of Science in 1916. Advanced study at that institution was followed by research at the University of Berlin. In 1920 he returned to his native land and began a distinguished academic career at the University of Latvia in Riga.

Following the war, he organized the Baltic University in exile for Latvian, Lithuanian, and Estonian refugees. Under his presidency, the University grew to 1300 students, tutored by a faculty of 250. Dr. Gulbis had hoped to transfer the whole institution to Canada.

Respected at McMaster for his personal charm and his cheerfulness in enforced exile, he was also highly regarded by the whole Latvian community here. He leaves us a legacy of loyalty, probity, courage, and love of learning and teaching.

Honour Society

Admitting a student to the Honour Society is the highest form of recognition that can be given to an undergraduate by his fellow students. To become a member of this Society the undergraduate must have a satisfactory academic record, and must have rendered valuable service to the University in non-athletic, extra-curricular activities. The honoured few receive a pin and a parchment, emblematic of the honour conferred upon them.

THESE TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

MESSAGES FROM THE DEANS

Among the books in my library The Marmor performs a unique service. When I turn its pages I am reminded of people I knew and liked and of events that brought interest and happiness. Then I think, too, of those who have made these volumes possible — of photographers, artists, writers, editors and a host of others who have given an immense amount of their time and energy to the task. Finally, I recall that there are a great many people like myself who pick up the Marmor from time to time and so live again some of the happiest hours of their lives. All of which leads me to congratulate this publication on its twenty-fifth anniversary and wish it well for future issues.

MARION BATES.

It is a pleasure to accede to the request to "write something" on the occasion of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the MacMaster MARMOR. The publication of a pictorial record of undergraduate activities year by year is accomplished only as a result of the willing labour of a competent staff. The succession of quality Marmors over the years speaks volumes for the McMaster students who have produced them. My heartiest congratulations and best wishes go to the editorial staff of the 1956 edition—the Silver Anniversary number.

H. S. ARMSTRONG.

During These Twenty-Five Years, many people have graduated from McMaster University. The following list does not claim to be either full or representative but it is hoped that it will show a few of the many fields in which Mac grads have gained some acclaim.

Fred Samis '35, a top executive of Northern Electric.

Willard Bush '38, Assistant Treasurer of the Dupont Company of Canada.

Arthur Smith '47, an economist on the national Industrial Conference Board.

Dr. Harold Johns '36, director of Cancer Research in Saskatoon.

Joe Burke '35, senior research assistant with General Electric.

John Dewdney '47, research assistant at Princeton.

DAILY PRESS

Bill Cranston '35, editor of the Midland Free Press.

Howard Whidden '32, Associate Editor of Business Week.

John Baldwin '32, Deputy Minister of Transport.

George Gathercole '36, Deputy Minister of Economic Affairs, Toronto.

James (Cy) Taylor '51, on the truce mission to Indo-China.

Jim Cross '47, secretaries to the Prime Minister
Ross Martin '40, Louis St. Laurent.

abcdefghijklm

Norman Ward '41, professor of Political Science, Saskatoon.

W. E. Haviland '45, MacDonald College of McGill University.

Syl Apps '36, former Canadian Hockey star.

Ken McAdam '39, of the Toronto Maple Leafs.

Ken Stanley '52, player with the Hamilton Tiger Cats.

Amelia Hall '38, on the Canadian stage and television.

Mary O'Neill '48, on the London stage.

Bill Solly '53, play produced on the London stage, Sweet William.

When McMaster moved from Toronto to Hamilton, the faculty also moved. After twenty-five years, five of those faculty members are still teaching here. We are pleased to include their pictures in this twenty-fifth edition of the Marmor.

GEORGE PEEL GILMOUR

B.A., B.D. (McMaster), M.A. (Yale), D.D. (Victoria, Saint Andrews), D.C.L. (Acadia), LL.D. (Queen's, Laval).

When McMaster moved from Toronto to Hamilton Dr. Gilmour was the Assistant Professor of Church History. Since that time he has risen to occupy the position of President of the University.

NATHANIEL HERRINGTON PARKER

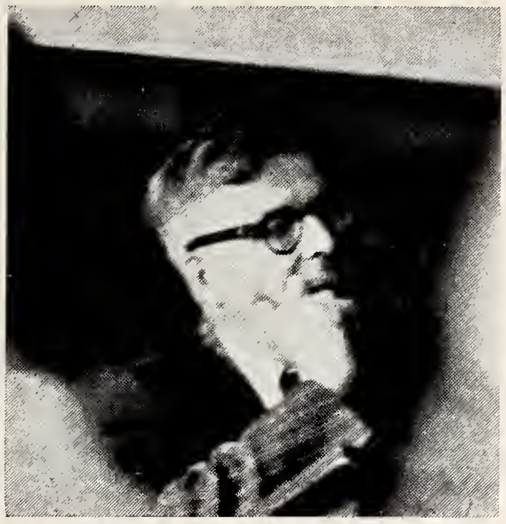
B.S. (Mississippi), Th.M. (Southern Baptist Theological Seminary), D.D. (Acadia).

In 1932, Dr. Parker was Professor of Hebrew and Old Testament Interpretation. Now he can be found in the office of Dean of the Divinity school, having succeeded to that post in 1952.

CLEMENT HODGSON STEARN

M.A. (Cambridge), B.D. (London), Ph.D. (Toronto).

Dr. Stearn came to McMaster as Professor of Classics. In later years he was Director of Extension and Head of that Department. In 1954, he went into partial retirement and now teaches only a few of the Classics courses.



GEORGE CALDWELL HADDOW
M.A. (Toronto, Oxford)

Mr. Haddow began his McMaster career as Assistant Professor of English. At the present time, he has the honour of being both the senior Arts Professor and the Head of the Department of English.

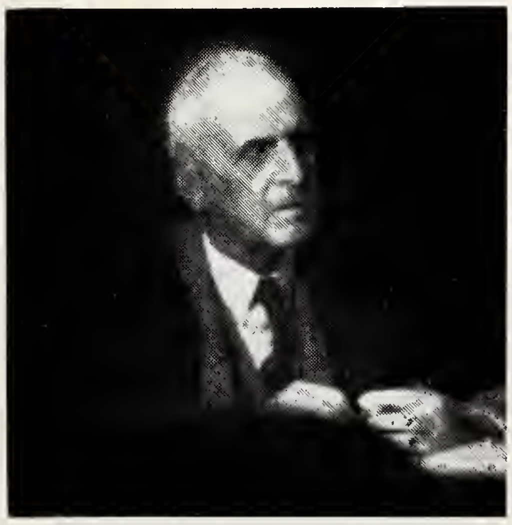
ALEXANDER BOYD McLAY
B.A. (McMaster), M.A., Ph.D. (Toronto), F.R.S.C.

Dr. McLay was the Assistant Professor of Physics in 1932. Now he is a full Professor and acts as Head of the Department of Physics.

The faculty members pictured below also moved to Hamilton with McMaster. Though they have since retired, they still maintain a close connection with this University.

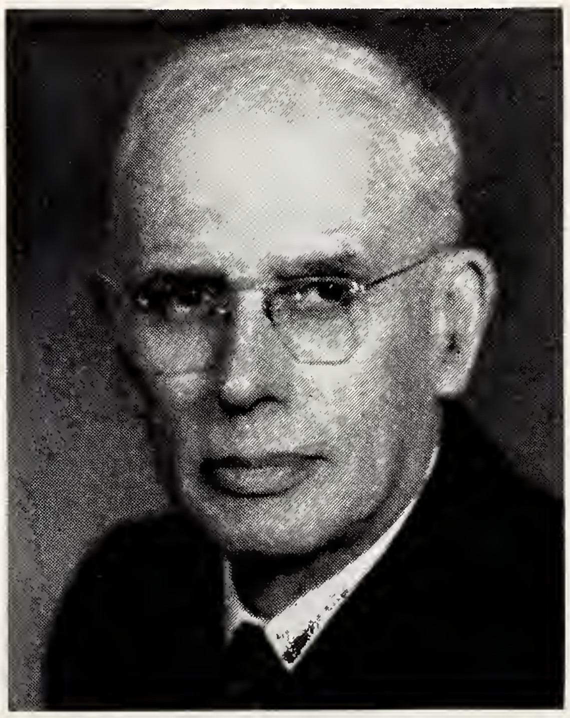
ALFRED EDWARD JOHNS
M.A., Ph.D. (Toronto)

Dr. Johns began his career as a lecturer in Mathematics in 1932. On his retirement he was the Chairman of that Department. He is now an Emeritus Professor of Mathematics and is acting as the Assistant Minister of St. Giles United Church.



CHESTER WILLIAM NEW
B.A. (Toronto), B.D. (McMaster), Ph.D. (Chicago), F.R.Hist.S., F.R.S.C.

Dr. New was Professor of History when he came with the University to Hamilton. As Emeritus Professor of that subject he is bringing further fame to himself, and McMaster, with the many books of which he is the author.



ELVEN JOHN BENGOUGH
B.A. (McMaster) C.S.R.

Mr. Bengough was the registrar of McMaster at the time of the Toronto-Hamilton move. Now he is the Honourary member of that seat and acts as the keeper of a personalia file of former graduates for the use of the Alumni Association.

ALLAN HOWIE

It gives me great pleasure to see the completion of a quarter century of publication of the McMaster Marmor. May it long continue to record undergraduate life at our Alma Mater.

1942

Allan Howie

ARTHUR J. R. SMITH

Congratulations to the Marmor on its first quarter century of service in providing a pictorial record of life at McMaster—a record that is not only of interest to students while at university but also one that is cherished by those who have left.

1945

Arthur J R Smith

GRAHAM WARREN

Congratulations to the undergraduates who have prepared this tribute and record of their contributions to McMaster life. May many more Marmors be required to document this continuing achievement.

1936

NORM RYDER

I consider it a privilege to extend my best wishes on the occasion of this notable anniversary. I am confident that the Marmor is providing even greater satisfaction to its producers as well as to its public and I trust that it will henceforth be accorded the respect appropriate to a university institution.

1943

DAVID C. SMITH

It is a pleasure to offer along with the others my congratulations on the occasion of the twenty-fifth edition of the Marmor with best wishes for the future good health of the Marmor tradition at McMaster.

1951

David C Smith

KEN RICE

For this big twenty-fifth milestone may I offer sincere congratulations with the hope the the years to follow may bring forth still better Marmors to record the continuing progress of McMaster University.

1941

Ken Rice

BRIT McCAMMON

Congratulations to the Marmor on its twenty-fifth anniversary! May the Marmors long continue as mileposts marking the progress of Mac, her sons and her daughters.

1934

ADDRESS BY
LOUIS ST. LAURENT,
Prime Minister of Canada

"... educational leaders across Canada, including McMaster's own President, have been active in stressing the advantages that are to be derived from a good training in the humanities. A few years ago, a Royal commission which examined the federal civil service found that the growing specialization in modern education had tended to deny the Public service an adequate supply of young men of quality with a broadly based academic background. As one result of this report steps were taken to offer more career opportunities in government service to young men and women graduates in arts, in administrative and other fields.

Of course we must not neglect the sciences, for modern society requires specialists. But it is equally important in a democracy to produce citizens who along with their knowledge have developed their aesthetic and ethical powers. That is why I am convinced that a good mixture of the liberal arts in the more utilitarian courses as is practised in this university, produces better doctors, lawyers, scientists and engineers. It will enable them to be men and women with a breadth of vision to see their work not in isolation but in its true role in the entire social structure.

The object of higher education in the arts and humanities is to teach us to think clearly. At no time in history has it been so important to think clearly when man's ability to destroy himself seems at times to have outstripped his ability to solve the problems which arise between him and his fellow man. As we learn how to harness the forces of nature we must learn to fit this technical and scientific knowledge into the pattern of our civilization or we will risk the destruction of the accomplishments of centuries.

If we cannot learn to live harmoniously with our fellow man and to co-operate for our greater welfare and happiness then our scientific and material progress will have been in vain."

We Won't Wish You Success!

No! — Because in Canada today your success is assured. What you require is knowledge and opportunity.

Knowledge you have gained at McMaster University. Opportunity you make for yourself.

So take your knowledge and search for your opportunity. You won't have far to look, for in Canada opportunity abounds. It's there in the expanding industrial areas; it's there in the vast untapped mineral resources that lie under the soil; it's there in every profession, in every corner of our land.

No country in the world can boast such opportunities as Canada today . . . and no country in the world can boast better training than you have just received.

Nothing can stop you now . . . except yourself!

We do say Congratulations . . . and our sincere wishes for a life of achievement and reward.

STUDEBAKER-PACKARD OF CANADA, LIMITED

HAMILTON, ONTARIO

CANADA AND YOU

Whatever your plans for the future, as a young Canadian, you stand in a particularly advantageous position. Canada is on the move, with huge power developments, new pipe lines, the seaway begun, and other large projects underway. And these developments are matched by the establishment of hundreds of smaller manufacturing plants and by the growth of older firms throughout the whole of Canada. This growth means opportunities to those who prepare themselves to meet the challenges that lie ahead.

Standing as you do, on the threshold of a new era, you are Canada's hope for the future . . . and that future has never appeared brighter.

A SHOCK TO THE EXPERTS. .

but is was a great thrill for Hamilton when the "Five Johns" succeeded with the first "long range" hydro transmission from Decew Falls, near St. Catharines, to Hamilton.

Even Lord Kelvin, the great physicist, said power couldn't be carried over such a long distance.

That was a proud Hamilton achievement, and there were a lot of them in the old days. The first threshing machines in Canada were made in Hamilton around 1837, the first telephone exchange in the British Empire was established in Hamilton, the first sleeping car was made in Hamilton in 1857; so were the first iron steamboat, the first sulphur matches, the first locomotive, the first sewing machine, the first coal oil lamp burner — and the first Canadian through line railroad had its headquarters in Hamilton.

Some of these things have been forgotten, but among our "Firsts" The Hamilton Spectator still holds its position, having served the people of Hamilton since 1846, over a century ago.

N.B.* IT'S THE RESULTS THAT COUNT

The following case history of Policy No. 1339 clearly demonstrates the value of a Participating Policy with the Standard.

Sum assured: $ 5,000 Whole Life
Issued: January 1900.
Premium: $ 128.60, payable for 20 years only.
Total premiums paid: $ 2,572.

In January 1951 the sum of $ 11,001, representing the sum assured and bonus additions, was paid in settlement of the claim. This represented a gain to the estate of $ 8,429 over the premiums paid.

The Business Executive

The criterion of a successful businessman is not primarily a knowledge of facts and figures, but the ability to analyze a problem and arrive at a logical solution. To do this, the executive consults specialists who can give him the facts and figures on which he can base an intelligent analysis.

When investigating the complex problems of establishing an estate, may we suggest that you consult the Canada Life representative.

A specialist in a highly technical field, he can illustrate the protection and savings features of life insurance.
